

MAJ. BLEDSOE, in his speech in Louisville, proclaimed himself "the only Republican candidate for Congress in the District." This was rough on the Radical Executive Committee which endorsed Josiah, and very rough on Mr. Henry N. Brown, who is an original and "fire-tried" Republican. Moses, for a mere "infant in the burlesques" of Radicalism, disports himself mightily.

The Fall elections in the different States take place on the days named below: Colorado, October 1; Georgia, October 2; West Virginia, October 6; Indiana and Iowa, October 8; Ohio, October 14; Mississippi, November 4; Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Kansas, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Wisconsin, November 5. In the territories, Idaho holds her election November 4, and Arizona, Dakota, Montana, New Mexico and Washington, November 5.

MR. DAVIS has now given the counties of Johnston and Orange a pretty thorough canvass, and has made several speeches, besides, in the counties of Wake, Nash and Chatham. Next week he will devote to Granville, and then make other appointments. Everywhere that he has gone, he has been received with the utmost favor and cordiality. His speeches to the people have been full of sound sense and solid information, worthy of the dignity of a gentleman proposing to represent them in the National councils. They have both enhanced his reputation and increased his hold upon the high confidence and regard of the people of the District.

A CORRESPONDENT of this paper stated, sometime ago, that lightning was never known to strike a sycamore tree. Another correspondent disputed the assertion and gave an instance, within his own observation, that disproved it. At all events, it is an established fact that lightning makes little impression on a black-gum, and so it has grown into a proverb, to say of well-matched irrepressibles, that "it is black-gum against lightning." "Which leads us to remark," that the proverb afore-said applies to the meeting at Louisville, an account of which we published on yesterday, - between Bledsoe and Turner. It must have afforded intense amusement to the people of that goodly town, who all looked on, doubtless, with the same complacency with which the historic Betsy regarded the fight between her husband and the bear.

What George Washington did not know.

We don't like to be irreverent but would like to ask what our forefathers knew? What, for instance, did George Washington know? He never saw a steamboat; he never saw a fast mail train; he never held his car to a telephone; he never saw a self-propelled in a photograph gallery; he never received a telegraphic dispatch; he never sighted a Krupp gun; he never listened to the "fizz" of an electric pen; he never saw a pretty girl run a sewing machine; he never saw a self-propelled engine go down the street; to a fire; he never heard of evolution; he never took laughing-gas; he never had a set of store teeth; he never attended an international exposition; he never owned a bouzou music; he never knew "Old Prob." He-but why not go on? No; when he took an excursion it was on a flat-boat. When he went off on a train it was a mule train. When he wanted to talk to a man in Milwaukee he had to go by stage. When he wanted to see a picture taken it was done in profile with a piece of black paper and a pair of shears. When he got the returns from back counties they had to be brought in by a man with an ox-cart. When he took aim at the enemy he had to trust to a crook-barreled old flint lock. When he wrote it was with a goose-quill. When he had anything to mend his grand-mother did it with a darning-needle. When he went to a fire he stood in a line and passed buckets. When he looked at a clam he never dreamed it was any relation of his. When he went to a concert he heard a cracked fiddle and an insane clarinet. When he had a tooth pulled he saw a doctor and never stopped yelling. When he got out his teeth he gummed his victuals. When he wanted an international show he sent for Lafayette and ordered his friend up from Old Virginia with the specimen carefully labeled "George Washington." When he got hold of a nugget of gold from an Indian chief he felt rich. When he wanted to know anything about the weather he consulted the ground-hog or the goose-bone.

The Campaign in the First District--Military and Journalistic Matters.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. The "triangular duel" in this (the First) District, goes bravely on. Maj. Yeates bears himself gallantly. As a canvasser, he has few equals, and the party may well be proud of their champion. The wangles of his opponents daily add to his strength. In the meantime, Jno. B. Respass (Independent Republican) belabors from J. COLLINS Martin (as he has been recently dubbed) with unmerciful blows, grievous to be borne. Chamberlain, another independent Republican, has withdrawn his claims, and now "pools his chances" with Respass against the field. So it seems generally accorded throughout the District that a seat in the next Congress "is not for Joe." We have organized here a Yeates Campaign Club, and from the material of which it is composed, we expect efficient work during the campaign. We only lack the stirring eloquence of our gallant leader to enthuse and put into action the elements thus drawn together. In November next you will have good tidings from old Beaufort. In spite of the unfavorable weather, cotton-picking is going on briskly. The farmers are hurrying to town their fleecy treasures, and our streets

THE YELLOW DEATH.

By Telegraph to the News. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—Thomas Layton, Treasurer of the Catholic Relief Association, has resigned his position. He is a most excellent officer—smelt gunpowder during the late unpleasantness, and with C. F. Warren and E. Long, as First and Second Lieutenants, will doubtless show off our boys at the approaching Fair, to the best advantage.

The "North Star Press" is about changing hands. It is hereafter to be under the care and control of Mr. Geo. A. Latham, assisted by Mr. A. C. Latham. Mr. L. is no novice in newspaperdom. He wields a vigorous pen, and for several months, past, his contributions have largely added to the attractiveness of the sprightly columns of the "Newbernian."

Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, our town shows evidences of gradual improvement. Several fine new residences are going up, and the hotel projected by the W. & J. Railroad company is approaching completion.

Absenteeism at the Capital.

Washington Correspondence St. Louis Republican.

The frequent and prolonged absence of the President and members of his Cabinet from Washington is creating much dissatisfaction among persons who have official business with the government. During Grant's administration there was a vast amount of talk about his having removed the seat of government to Long Branch. At the last session of last Congress a resolution passed the House, virtually calling upon Grant to explain his conduct. It will be recalled that he replied in a curt message, telling the House to mind its own business. It is a fact that Hayes has been absent from Washington during the year and a half that he has been in office, more than twice as long as ever Grant absented himself in the same length of time. Hayes has made trips to all sections of the country except the Pacific coast. He will have been absent when he returns from his present trip, at the end of five months out of the nineteen he has been in office. This is extraordinary, for such is the proper characterization of his absence from the seat of government, has almost been rivalled by the absence of his Cabinet members. Postmaster General Key, Devens and Sherman have made frequent excursions from the city, although it may be said to the latter's credit that he generally has not gone off to make a show of himself, but to attend to some business occasioned by his interests in some scheme. McCrary, who has been stumping in Iowa, in plain violation of the civil service order, has had his share of excursions. "Dick" Thompson made one excursion in a naval vessel. The summer that ruined a reputation he had earned by remaining at his post steadily and working sixteen hours out of each twenty-four. Evans has not really lived in Washington. He is in New York more than half his time. His going and coming become so common as to be not worth recording in the daily papers. Schurz certainly deserves credit for attending to his business. Whatever may be said of him, it certainly cannot be charged that he neglected his office. The members of the Cabinet who are supposed to attend to the public affairs of the people of the country have grown so accustomed to postponing business for pleasure that they are now sharply informing a person who desires to transact business matters that he must wait. A gentleman who had business with the Attorney General arrived here the day before the latter left with the show which they were to start on the Northwest. His business was of a public nature. Delay meant delay to the commerce of the Mississippi valley. But Devens pushed it aside and went out on the West to make political speeches.

A Raid on a Court Room.

Springfield Republican. During the examination at Marquette, Mich., of witnesses before the Commissioner Maynard in the case of Samuel J. Tilden, about 9 o'clock Monday evening, two men suddenly entered the office, seized the books of the New York iron mine company, which are being used in the testimony, and, while one remained down stairs, the other, who was waiting in the street, stood guard at the door, preventing the egress of any one, until his accomplice had secured a good start. Just previous to the entrance of the men, Thomas Harland of New York, attorney for Mr. Tilden, had been examining the books, and placed them in a pile on the table near the door. As soon as the occupants of the room realized what had been done, they returned to their private property, rushed out after the men, but they passed out as quickly as possible, and officers started in pursuit. They overtook the carriage some miles on the way, but found the driver and his party had fled. It is supposed that the books had been taken outside the State.

Mexico's Attitude Toward the United States.

The Mexican Congress opened the 16th. President Diaz, in his message, reviews the American question. He claims that the Mexican government has performed its duties toward the United States in good faith, and that the United States also says that Mexico desires to cultivate peace with all nations, especially the United States. It is determined at the same time, to maintain its independence and honor. The President also says that the Senate has authorized the executive to treat with the American government for mutual military co-operation on the Rio Grande, but asked as a condition to such co-operation that the order given to marauders be countermanded. The United States refused to revoke the order, and the Mexican government agreed to nothing.

The London Times naturally weeps over the release of Canada into protection, though it concludes that Canada can go no further astray than Victoria has been. The Times recalls the fact that when the Brown treaty was under consideration, four years ago, Lord Derby and Carnarvon assured a deputation of British merchants that they should disallow any Canadian legislation designed to favor the manufacturers of the United States over those of England. It was this instance of the disregard of the geographical position of Canada which drives her now into protection, and promises to close her to English as well as to American manufacturers.

The Plague's Work of Death--The Report to the U. S. Surgeon General.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 28.—Reports to Dr. Woodworth, Surgeon General of U. S. Marine hospital service, show at New Orleans during the week ending yesterday evening 926 cases and 324 deaths. In the last 24 hours 124 cases and 51 deaths. Total cases 8,464, deaths 2,700. South Pass to 26th, 41 cases and 2 deaths. Morgan City for the week 76 cases and 13 deaths. Totals 145 cases and 30 deaths.

Charges for Carrying Banknotes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The following circular has been issued by the Treasury Department: WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—On and after Oct. 1, 1878, the portion of national bank notes to the Treasurer of the United States for redemption, under the act approved June 20, 1874, (18 Statutes, 123), must be paid by the party making the redemption. If the charges are not prepaid, the amount thereof will be deducted from the proceeds. Hereafter the Government has paid all such charges and reimburse itself out of the 5 per cent. fund allowed by the banks to pay the interest on the redemption of notes. The Government has also had special rates with the express companies. It is said that hereafter banks sending notes for redemption will have to pay full rates.

Depression of the Manchester Cotton Market.

By Cable to the News. MANCHESTER, Sept. 28.—The Guardian's commercial article says: In consequence of the excessive supply and deficient demand, the market is again dull and lifeless. A declaration of the actual stock of cotton at Liverpool has been received, which has shaken confidence. Many are of opinion that there is good ground for the belief that the supply of American is larger than was returned.

The President and the Fenians.

By Telegraph to the News. NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—President Hayes has authorized the release of Fenians, Condon and Melody, to be released on bond, and have called Rev. Taylor Masters, of Charlotte, to the charge of the two congregations. He returned yesterday from the Mecklenburg Presbytery, which convened at Asheville. The Presbytery ordered that all the Fenians, former residents of the Old English Consul, now owned by Mrs. Henry, and which was filled this summer with large, comfortable and well-furnished rooms, together with a well kept table, make "a life joy" to the many who sojourned there this summer.

Romantic's Dignified Attitude.

By Cable to the News. BECARRA, Sept. 28.—The Romantic Chambers met in special session yesterday. Retreating Russians.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 28.—The Chinese Minister was formally received

By the President this morning. The ceremony was private.

The Secretary of the Treasury has appointed a committee to examine and take account of special papers, U. S. notes and other securities, whether partially printed or complete, held by the bureau of engraving and printing. The appointment of a successor to Mr. McPherson, late chief of that bureau, will be decided on Monday.

Assistant Adjutant General Drum telegraphed this to General Ayer.

The Secretary of War says if you have an officer in your Command who will volunteer to take charge of the contribution of supplies upon to be sent by a steamboat from St. Louis to points on the Mississippi River, and see to the distribution, order him to report to Gov. A. R. Shepherd, Lindell House, St. Louis, by Tuesday next.

General Sherman and Jno. T. Mitchell of the National Relief Association, left here this evening for St. Louis, to purchase supplies and despatch the boat down the Mississippi River.

Interesting Legal Point--The Extent of the Powers of Referees.

The case of LaFontaine vs. the Southern Underwriters' Association, was placed by the Superior Court in the hands of T. M. Argo, Esq., as referee. This gentleman had the case before him last week, but proceedings were somewhat abruptly terminated by the refusal of one of the most prominent witnesses to answer, on the ground that he might criminate himself. A question then arose as to the power of a referee in such cases of refusal to answer. The referee in the subject given the subjoined decision: 1st. Has the referee in proceedings supplemental to execution power to punish for not attending? 2nd. Is it proper to punish, excepting upon the trial of an issue? Ed. Ref. pp. 177 & 178. S. 273. N. Y. C. 240. C. C. P. The requirement that "witnesses may be required to appear and testify in the case," does not confer the power. N. Y. C. 295. C. C. P. 267. Ed. Ref. p. 177. 2nd. Has the referee in said case, power to attach or commit, for refusal to answer? 3rd. How should the examination be taken? The examination should be taken by question and answer. Ed. Ref. p. 180. N. Y. C. 296. C. C. P. S. 268. 4th. It seems that upon a refusal to answer, the referee should adjourn the examination, and certify the question and the refusal to the judge, that the witness may be dealt with by the court. Ed. Ref. p. 189. 5th. Also, that the referee is authorized to pass upon the propriety of the witnesses answering. Ibid. 189, (vide decision). 6th. The purpose of the examination being the discovery of property, every question tending to throw light on the subject is competent. Ed. Ref. pp. 180, et seq. N. Y. C. 292. C. C. P. S. 270. 7th. The judgment debtor is to be examined as any other witness. Ed. Ref. p. 185. N. Y. C. 292. C. C. P. S. 264. S. Div. 3. Hence he is not entitled to counsel to assist him in framing his answer; he having been made a witness by the plaintiff, may be cross-examined in his own behalf. The case of Corning v. Tucker, 5 How. P. R. 16, was decided before the amendment to § 292, N. Y. C., in 1867.

Letter from Henderson County.

Correspondence of the News. HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., Sept. 26. I promised the amount of our concert for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers. It was $67.40, together with the amount taken up on Sabbath, and on that day we had a fine sermon from Rev. G. S. Jones, a Baptist minister now engaged in the Sabbath School work here. The services were in the Presbyterian church here, and the Sabbath Schools of the place were in attendance. The subject was from the Saviour's feet by the woman, and the expenses incident to the same, when the clamored about her extravagance: "She hath done what she could." He dealt well with his subject; plain and touching were many of his illustrations, and if they have fallen in good ground, he will be the first to know. One was pointed out and true: It was of an old deacon, very pious, who made long, tiresome stereotyped prayers, both in public and at home. One of his neighbors was ruined by the loss of his property, and he did not know how to help him, but his condition in life was just such as that he could give nothing. That night at prayers the old man sent forth a cry of distress, and said, "Pa, I wish I had your corn crib." "Why, my son?" "Because then I would answer your prayer."

Withdrawal from Candidacy.

Correspondence of the News. WARENTON, N. C., Sept. 28. Please allow me to make the following statement through your paper: On the 23d of August I announced myself a candidate for Congress in the Second District. At that time there was no candidate in the field but O'Hara, the nominee of the Republican party. I did not suppose, after announcing myself, that any one else would come out, thereby dividing the vote which I would otherwise get nor did I think the Democratic party would make any nomination. In the former calculation I was mistaken, and a convention of the party is called to meet Tuesday. I hereby announce my withdrawal from the candidacy, and also state that my name will not be before the convention for its nomination. Very truly yours, B. F. LONG.

When, some years ago, Anson Burlingame and Cassius M. Clay were stumping in the West, they returned to their hotel after a particularly warm welcome one night, and were talking of fairing over. Suddenly strains of music were heard outside. "They are serenading us," said Clay; "open the window and make 'em a speech." Burlingame stepped to the window, opened it, and began: "Fellow citizens, I hardly know how to thank you for this touching proof of your esteem and regard. Mr. Clay and myself are indeed grateful." Just at this point a voice in the crowd below was heard, saying: "Boys, that ain't the gal in red. Let's dust!"

Solicitor Rayner and John Sherman.

Louisville Courier-Journal. There have been many rumors to the effect that John Sherman was preparing to effect the removal of Hon. Kenneth Rayner, Solicitor of the Treasury Department, because of Mr. Rayner's decision in the case of the Richmond and Danville railroad, which gave that corporation a larger rate of compensation for transporting troops during the war than was allowed Northern road.

The claim, which was for $17,314.25, went through the official mill and was reported to Congress in March, 1876, and Congress passed an act for the payment of the money, which was approved by the President in May, 1876. The Secretary of the Treasury sent the bill to the Secretary of War for his requisition for a warrant to pay it. An office together with other new officials, the claim was reviewed with the result that the recommendation was made that the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, instead of receiving four and a half cents per mile, should be allowed two cents per mile.

This was one of the first cases presented to Solicitor Rayner, and Secretary Sherman requested him only to pass upon the power of the new officials to reopen the case after it had been fully decided and afterwards approved by the President. This Mr. Rayner did as follows: "I think the postulate is a sound one, in law, that a claim against the Government having been duly audited and allowed by the proper officers and reported to Congress for appropriation, and a sum appropriated for its payment, the action imposes a binding obligation upon the Government to pay, which the officers charged with the disbursement of the fund cannot neglect or refuse, except upon new and material evidence of fraud, irregularity or mistake, not known to Congress when the appropriation was made. The statute is the supreme law of the land, and the authority of the officers of the Government."

It will be observed that he does not touch upon the merits of the case at all, but only deals with its legal aspect, and he expressly states in a recent letter to Mr. Sherman that the first allowance to the railroad company was exorbitant.

We make this brief resume of the case because Mr. Rayner, who is a most capable and honorable gentleman, has been very grossly abused by the press, and has been unjustly condemned by John Sherman, who, in the first place, only asked Mr. Rayner to give his opinion upon the point of law, which was done, and that opinion was favorable to the non-reopening of the case. The opinion of Mr. Rayner, above quoted, is certainly a sound one.

A Whole City for Sale.

Springfield Republican. The offer of a city for sale is an uncommon circumstance in modern times. In the case of Manila, Philippines, famous for its wines, is in the market. Its 35,000 inhabitants having placarded its wall with the announcement that they want to dispose of it, because they are unable to bear any longer the burden of taxation laid upon them. The placard adds that they hope to find purchasers who can satisfy the cupidity that lays waste the fair regions of Sicily, and that by emigrating to the new city they may escape the pecuniary exactions to which they have been exposed. Here is a fine opportunity for some of our millionaires. The city, which can, doubtless, be purchased at a low price, is a beautiful one, because 30,000 pipes of wine (very good wine, too, resembling both sherry and Malaga), are produced there, and find a ready market, two-thirds of it going abroad. The wine trade owes its activity to Sicily, and the city is a fine one for the British fleet. The city is ancient, also, and has a history which our new country ought to appreciate. Occupying the sites of Lilyboun, the old capital of the Carthaginian settlements in Sicily, was selected by Garibaldi as the landing point of his volunteers in his renowned Sicilian campaign.

However earnestly I may have begged you to be faithful to your native land and to estimate at its proper value your birthright as Englishmen, it is with great regret that I am compelled to exhort you to cultivate the most friendly and cordial relations with the great American people. A nobler nation, a people more generous or more hospitable does not exist. To have refused to admit the persistence of them in their land as not the least of the many advantages I have gained by coming to Canada.

An English paper says that a very unpleasant discovery was made at Nimes a short time ago by the wife of a man who, while looking for some linen in one of her husband's boxes, came upon a woman's skull. She at once requested her husband to inform her how he came into the possession of such a sinister object, and when he told her that it was a souvenir of his first wife, she begged him to get rid of it, well-after several days she consented to do. The story got bruited abroad in the village, and, on its coming to the ears of the police, the man was prosecuted for "violating a burial place." The case was tried before the local tribunal, and from the evidence given it appeared that the accused, hearing that the remains of his first wife, who died in 1881, were to be disinterred, and placed in the grave of his village to allow the grave-digger to give him a part of the body that he might preserve it as a souvenir. The grave digger brought him the skull rolled up in a piece of cloth, and this the man piously preserved in a box. The tribunal, holding that the accused had not been guilty of any sacrilegious act, acquitted him, and this decision has been confirmed by the Court of Appeals at Nimes.—Full Mail Gazette.

JONES' BAKING POWDER
FOR SALE BY ALL GROCERS.
We ask all cooks, housewives, and the general public to give us goods an impartial trial. This powder is carefully prepared upon scientific principles—the result of long and careful experiments and tests in chemistry. In its proportions and compounding, it is the perfection of science, and is recommended by the leading Chemists in the United States, whose certificates we have. It is perfectly pure and wholesome, and saves time, labor and money of every consumer. It stands unrivaled; we challenge the world to produce better pure and more wholesome goods.
REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE USED:
A PAREL OF FLOUR MAKES ABOUT 40 POUNDS MORE READ IT NEVER FAILS AND ALWAYS PLEASURES THE CONSUMER. IT IS THE PERFECTION OF SCIENCE IN COOKERY. IT IS A COMFORT FOR EVERY HOME. YOUR BREAD WILL NEVER BE SOUR. YOUR FOOD WILL BE THE BEST. YOUR HEAD WILL BE WHITER AND RICHER. YOUR HEALTH WILL BE PRESERVED BY ITS PURITY.
WARRANTED TO KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE
We do most earnestly caution consumers of Baking Powder against using adulterate and cheap goods, as no good and pure Baking Powder can be sold for less than ours. An analysis of the cheap clap-net spurious adulterated goods called Baking Powder, would startle the community of consumers beyond precedence, as most of it is not fit for use, and would not be allowed to be sold were the laws enforced; yet goods of this kind are manufactured and sold by dealers because of their cheapness, by unscrupulous manufacturers, who are not to be trusted. We are not to be deceived by the fact that they have now opened on Fayetteville Street at his old stand, and that he is prepared to furnish to the public, and to the trade anything in his line of the best quality, and at as low prices as can be afforded in the Southern States. He has on hand Liquors of every description, from the best brands of Imported Brandy and Wines of France and Germany; Gin of Holland; the Wines and Cordials of Southern Europe, to every description of Domestic Liquors and native Wines, including California Brandy and Wines, and the well known brands of Still and Sparkling Catawba from Ohio. All dealers will do well to see him and get their supplies.

HEGE'S IMPROVED CIRCULAR SAW MILL
Manufactured by the Salem Agricultural Works, Salem, N. C.
CIRCULAR SAW MILL. LEVERFEED CUTTER.
Hegel's Improved Circular Saw Mill, is no new or dandrified saw mill, but is one that is well and favorably known in many sections, and wherever it is introduced it is fast superseding all others. It is simple in construction, yet reliable in operation, and is sold for less than any other first class saw mill. Send for descriptive circular.
Lever Feed Cutter,
Is something entirely new and novel in the feed cutter line. With this cutter the feed is cut off diagonally, instead of square across, as is the case with all other cutters. At the same time our cutter has a draw cut, acting exactly on the same principle. That a knife is used in cutting off a stick, consequently with our Diagonal Feed Cutter we can cut more feed with less labor in a given time than any other cutter costing twice as much.
Price reduced to $300. Send for circular. Liberal discount to agents. No goods consigned. Manufactured by the Salem Agricultural Works, Salem, N. C.
Will not choke. Runs light. Easily regulated. Try one. Liberal discount to dealers. Made entirely of iron. Not liable to get out of order. Just what the farmer needs. Send for descriptive circular.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

A letter is held at the post office, bearing a three cent stamp but no address. Jas. E. Halsey, of New York, was yesterday appointed a Commissioner of Affidavits for this State. No cases were tried at the Mayor's Court yesterday. These are quiet times in criminal circles. Complaints are made that hogs wander at will in the old cemetery. The matter should be given attention. During September County Treasurer Neathery has paid fifty-four teachers in this county, all outside this city. Nearly 800 lock boxes have been taken at the post office. After to-morrow none of the old numbers will be reserved. Yesterday was the busiest Saturday in weeks. But few people were in the city from the country, and the streets, in greater part, were an aspect of lifelessness. That excellent and reliable firm of grocers, Hardin & Grimes, give notice of the establishment of the system of calling for orders. They are up with the times in all respects. In another column will be found a notice of the sale of a gold mine and other valuable property, well worth the attention of capitalists or others desiring to purchase, in Davidson county. Northampton Court begins to-morrow and lasts two weeks. The criminal docket is very light. At the civil docket, the term of the County Court, of the same length, will be held, the criminal docket of this county being very heavy. Mrs. Besson, widow of Mr. Besson, the merchant-tailor, who lived in this city several years ago, has returned to Raleigh from Paris, where she resided for a considerable time, bringing her six children with her. She proposes to locate in this city and engage in business. It is amusing to observe some parties stand in front of their boxes while the mail is being distributed, and as soon as a letter is put in, open the door, seize the letter, and then close the door and watch for another. Some seem to think the office will be open only for a little time and so through the lobby. All such people in a hurry will soon learn that the office stands open until 11 p. m.

F. B. Hill, Grocer.

Attention is again called to this establishment. Mr. Hill, by strict attention to business has built up a good trade. He keeps the very best goods, and sells at the lowest market prices.

For the Sufferers.

Col. W. E. Anderson yesterday received from Rev. R. B. Sutton, Rector of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church, Pittsboro, $325, the amount of a collection taken in that church. The amount was promptly sent to the Sisters of St. Mary, at Memphis.

For the Penitentiary.

Sheriff D. A. Grantham, of Wayne, yesterday delivered to the authorities at the State Penitentiary, three negroes, convicted of larceny in that county. Their names and terms of sentence are: James Bridges, 3 years; Aaron Grimes, 1 year; Ben Moore, 3 years.

Always Foremost.

Col. Nat. Atkinson, of Asheville, whose exhibit of fruit at the Fair here has been one of the attractions, will this year surpass his usual efforts, and will bring the choicest specimens of apples etc., of all known varieties, ever shown in the South. There is no limit to the fruit-growing power in the west, and no State can surpass her in this distinctive display.

Personal.

Hon. M. W. Ransom is at the Yarrow. Solicitor F. N. Strudwick, of Hillsboro, was in the city yesterday. Mr. L. Levy goes North to-day, to make purchases. He will bring some experienced workmen with him, and on his return establish a steam laundry.

Simpson's White Rose Tooth Powder beautifies the teeth and perfumes the breath. Try it.

Changes Hands.

The Wilson Advance will hereafter be published by Messrs. John E. Woodard and Theodore H. Woodard, who have purchased the same. These gentlemen are both well known, Mr. Woodard is a talented and promising young lawyer, and Mr. H. Woodard is a successful representative of the press.

Revenue Collections.

During the week just closed the following collections were made at the office of the Collector here: Monday, $952.90; Tuesday, 2,596.85; Wednesday, 1,245.34; Thursday, 2,783.80; Friday, 1,348.57; Saturday, 2,046.65.

The Celebration of the Jewish New Year.

The Jewish community of Hobeaux faithfully observed the festival of "Rosh Hashana" yesterday. At sunset Friday, all places of business were closed, and business of all kinds religiously abstained from. In the room over the store of Mr. H. Woodard, religious services were conducted by Mr. M. Grauman. The Holy Scriptures were read, Genesis XXI and XXII, recording the birth and sacrifice of Isaac, and the first chapter of Samuel, being recited.

Those Geese Again.

Should the plan of permitting great flocks of geese to have their home in the streets, be continued, it is probable that a warfare will be waged against those noisy nuisances, who day after day make a ceaseless clamor. As it seems there is no other means of ridding the city of what no other place of the size would dream of allowing, the originators of this plan may doubtless regret approving their work of kindness succeds. There are limits to endurance, and in the course of human events, this step is become necessary.

The Purcell House.

During a recent trip to Wilmington it was our pleasure to stop at the Purcell House, which is now and has been for the last year under the management of Mr. S. Cobb Brothers. We were decidedly pleased with this house, finding everything in the best of order, and in excellent order, having within the last few months been thoroughly overhauled from basement to garret. Its outfit is entirely new and of the best quality. This house and its accommodations are such that the traveler could desire, and it gives us great pleasure to commend it to the traveling public generally, and to direct attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Cobb Brothers in this issue.

Revenues on the Rampage.

Violators of the laws in respect to Internal Revenue, have felt their heavy hand rather severely in this District, for in the past three days Col. Young has had his depots on the war-path, and within that brief space he has caused the seizure of the tobacco factories of J. M. Mitchell and Joseph Fuller, both in Granville. Also, a lot of tobacco in the smokehouse of the same Mitchell, which bore stamps. The same depots took charge of a lot of tobacco at the house of L. W. Mitchell, in Granville. There was also a capture of an illicit distillery, in full blast, near Egypt, Chatham county. It was said to belong to one H. H. Fitten. Boxes of tobacco, with two horses and a wagon, were captured near Wadesboro, Anson county. There was not a single stamp on the whole lot of tobacco.

Roll of Honor.

The following are the names of those who, for good conduct and good lessons, are placed upon the roll of honor in the third grade of the Graded School. In the roll books for the whole year there is not one black mark against their names:

Lillie Broughton, Eddie West, Robert Lancaster, Geo. Blackwell, Lizzie Terrell, Robert Bunch, Mary Holder, Lindsey Lancaster, Mary Holder, Thomas Spain, Lulu Ellis, Edith White, Phoebe Shilburn, Lonnie Williams.

The Board of Aldermen.

A special meeting of the City Council was held last evening. It was called to consider two important questions, one of which has probably been given more attention than any subject of thought, certainly of discussion: Is it, whether the removal of the trees in the place of the old post office should be allowed.

For the Penitentiary.

A motion was made by Alderman Maguin that the acting Superintendent of the building be allowed to cut down the trees on the grounds. Some discussion was had on the motion, and the yeas and nays were called. The Board at once sat down on the project by a vote of 8 to 4.

The next question was on the extension of the fire limits; that is the extension of the city within which the erection of no wooden building is allowed. This matter was brought more particularly before the Board by reason of the intention of the Board to erect a new office building in dangerous proximity to the court house, as well as to prevent the erection of other wooden structures.

Alderman Weaver moved to amend sec. 1 chap. 3, as follows: Strike out "in the place of the old post office" and insert "in the place of the old post office, or any place on said square to any other place thereon. Much discussion was had on this motion. County Treasurer Neathery addressed the Board, stating that the matter of the old post office was entirely in the hands of the county. Finally the motion prevailed, and thus the plan of extension is in force and effect.

The Next State Fair.

Donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society, for the Eighteenth Annual Fair, October 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19th next, at Raleigh, N. C. [Acknowledged by O. B. Denson, Secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee.] One fireman's hat, belt, shirt, trumpet and badge, value not stated, given by Anderson & Jones, 199 Grand street, New York. These gentlemen are manufacturers of firemen's equipments and supplies, such as hats, shirts, lanterns, signals, trumpets, &c., and indeed every article used in the fire department. They deserve to be remembered by our gallant boys. This premium has just been tendered and has not as yet been disposed of, but will be so given as to compensate the faithful fireman, to whom the community owes a debt, not always understood or paid.

One foreign reel, given by Mrs. S. A. Elliott, Oxford, N. C. This is a ingenious invention, by our fair countrywoman, but in its application to fancy work, we fear some of our country friends will object. It foreshadows the giving up of the ancient practice where, by the masculine hands were fast bound the threads of the loom, and their owner at the mercy of the artist. Mrs. Elliott's invention banishes that much of the poetry of life. It will not be forgotten that we are indebted to her for one of the best works on cookery extant.

Four sets of lums—two sets of elm and two sets of gum—given by W. Felton, Union Factory, Otter street, Philadelphia, Pa. This is a liberal contribution, and a good piece of article. We invite the attention of carriage makers, wagon makers, and others to these goods. Mr. Felton says that he will duplicate them promptly.

The Celebration of the Jewish New Year.

The Jewish community of Hobeaux faithfully observed the festival of "Rosh Hashana" yesterday. At sunset Friday, all places of business were closed, and business of all kinds religiously abstained from. In the room over the store of Mr. H. Woodard, religious services were conducted by Mr. M. Grauman. The Holy Scriptures were read, Genesis XXI and XXII, recording the birth and sacrifice of Isaac, and the first chapter of Samuel, being recited.

Those Geese Again.

Should the plan of permitting great flocks of geese to have their home in the streets, be continued, it is probable that a warfare will be waged against those noisy nuisances, who day after day make a ceaseless clamor. As it seems there is no other means of ridding the city of what no other place of the size would dream of allowing, the originators of this plan may doubtless regret approving their work of kindness succeds. There are limits to endurance, and in the course of human events, this step is become necessary.

The Purcell House.

During a recent trip to Wilmington it was our pleasure to stop at the Purcell House, which is now and has been for the last year under the management of Mr. S. Cobb Brothers.
